Bangin' Buried Workshop Mock Buried Trial With Vicky & Tracy

August 14, 5:30 – 7:30 PM - Workshop

August 15, 8:00 AM - Mock Trial

Workshop

Limit 8 working teams

Buried searches are meant to model conditions that search and rescue dogs might find in the field with locating remains or objects underground or underwater. Our version in bins, with essential oils, and in a range of environments provides complications not seen in a typical search. Handlers often are frustrated by their pass rates and dogs may be confused by the presentation of odor through sand and water.

For the workshop, teams will have practice, coaching, and feedback on multiple searches including:

- Sand only (Classic novice setup, Varied arrangements, Multiple hides)
- Water only (Classic advanced setup, Varied arrangements)
- Mixed sand and water, with arrangements and hide placement to work:
 - Converging odor, Drifting odor, Sourcing challenges, Handling Strategies
 - Environmental challenges to consider, including: Surfaces, Walls, Airflow, Heat, Cold

Prerequisites: Dogs should be able to source birch, anise and clove; dogs should be able to crate quietly either in the building or outside in your vehicle while waiting their turn

Mock Trial

Teams will practice trial-like Buried searches. Three set-ups will be available:

Classic Novice set-up
Classic Advanced set-up
Classic Excellent set-up

NOTE: You may enter the Mock Trial without participating in the Workshop
